Laureen E. Seeger
Executive Vice President, General Counsel and Chief Compliance Officer
McKesson Corporation
One Post Street
San Francisco, CA 94104

Dear Ms. Seeger,

I forward the attached letter sent to me today from attorney Don A. Smith of Smith, Cohen & Horan, PLC in Ft. Smith, Arkansas in which Mr. Smith claims to represent and speak on behalf of McKesson Corporation.

Mr. Smith's letter was in response to an email I sent to McKesson Corporation employee Frank A. Robinson (Vice President, Corporate Real Estate) on September 21, 2011 with copies to you, John H. Hammergren, the Presiding Director of the Board, and the Corporate Secretary of McKesson Corporation. Mr. Robinson did not directly reply or respond to me himself.

I also attach Mr. Smith's letter to me of April 11, 2011, written likewise in the capacity of legal representative for McKesson Corporation. Both of Mr. Smith's attached letters indicate McKesson Corporation employees Carole S. Ungvarsky (Assistant General Counsel) and Jean A. Mescher (Director, Environmental Services) as copy recipients.

I ask that you as General Counsel and Chief Compliance Officer of McKesson Corporation confirm to me in writing on McKesson Corporation letterhead that Mr. Smith is, in fact, authorized by you to represent, speak for and make written demands on behalf of McKesson Corporation.

I ask that you also confirm to me in writing that the substance and intent of Mr. Smith's attached letters are supported by you as General Counsel and Chief Compliance Officer of McKesson Corporation, including the the following statement from Mr. Smith's letter of today's date:

"Before we can allow McKesson to have any further communication with you, your position must be unequivocally stated."

I would be surprised if Mr. Smith does in fact have authority to decide with whom McKesson Corporation can or cannot be allowed to have "further communication." Therefore, I await your reply to this email to set the matter straight.

Sincerely,

Charles Curtis Grisham, Jr.
